

Morgan Gilligan Joins Downtown Partnership of Baltimore Board of Directors

Morgan C. Gilligan

The Downtown Partnership of Baltimore (DPOB), a hybrid entity whose mission is to create a more vibrant, connected Downtown community for businesses, property owners, residents, and employees to thrive, announces Morgan C. Gilligan, Vice President-Manager of the Mid-Atlantic Commercial division at Stewart Title Guaranty Company, as a new member of the Downtown Partnership of Baltimore Board of Directors. Gilligan adds to the formidable lineup of leaders representing a diverse array of organizations, with expertise poised to propel the organization to new heights.

As Shelonda Stokes, President of Downtown Partnership, emphasizes, “In this critical juncture, it’s imperative that our board mirrors the diverse voices of Downtown.” Stokes passionately believes that the true strength of Downtown is realized when every voice is not only acknowledged, but actively contributes to shaping its future.

Gilligan boasts over 25 years of leadership in title insurance and commercial real estate. With a strategic focus, he oversees operations and sales in the Baltimore and D.C. markets. Gilligan’s expertise, honed in key roles at Craftsman Developers, LLC, Commercial Settlement Services, LLC, Brinker Capital, and MBNA America, reects his track record of achieving record-setting sales, market share growth, and retention rates. Beyond his professional achievements, Gilligan is a dedicated community leader, serving on the boards of prominent organizations and chairing impactful initiatives. His commitment has earned him accolades, including recognition as an “Inuential Marylander” by The Daily Record and honors like “Service Provider of the Year” from The National Association of Industrial Office Properties. As a licensed title insurance professional in Maryland, Delaware, and Washington, D.C., Gilligan holds a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science from Mt. St. Mary’s College and resides in Baltimore County with his wife and two children.

“It is with great enthusiasm and commitment that I join the Board of Directors of the Downtown Partnership of Baltimore,” said Gilligan. “I’m excited to collaborate with fellow leaders in leveraging our diverse expertise to cultivate a Downtown that thrives on innovation, inclusivity, and prosperity. Together, let’s forge a path towards a stronger, more connected community, enriching the urban landscape for all who live, work, and explore the vibrant heart of Baltimore.”

DPOB is a non-prot corporation creating a more vibrant Downtown community for businesses, property owners, residents, and employees. Through its many initiatives, Downtown Partnership improves Downtown’s quality of life by increasing investment, retaining business, solving transportation challenges, improving parks and green space, and creating workforce development opportunities. For 40 years, these programs have been good for Downtown and good for Baltimore.